

Title:

JADE and EL-SEA

Author: J. W. Dickinson

ISBN: 978-1-921633-24-9

Publication date: April 1st 2011

Size: 205 by 140

RRP: $18.95, paperback

Extent: 224pp paperback

Target Audience: General adult readers,
Young adult readers, schools

Review copies available

Sales points:
engaging story,
environmental and moral themes,
school market, teaching notes available.

Contact the Publisher for media enquiries: info@wombatbooks.com; 07-32451938,
P. O. Box 1519, Capalaba Qld 4157

Distributed in Australia by Dennis Jones and Associates or contact the publisher
T: +61 (0)3 9762 9100 E: theoffice@dennisjones.com.au W: www.dennisjones.com.au

Foreign Rights enquiries, please contact Australian Licensing Corporation
T: +61 (0)2 9280 2220 E: alc@alc-online.com W: www.alc-online.com

When evil stalks
the world, even dragons have to choose sides...

'A dazzling debut!'

Anne Hamilton, author of Many-Coloured Realm

The ice flow is melting, the song of the land almost drowned in the rising sea. Can anyone saving the dying world?

A young penguin princess dares to believe that help lies with the Guardian of the Mountain of Fire. After almost dying knocking at the door to Jade's hidden fortress, she discovers the Guardian has been dead for eighty years. Jade, the Guardian's son, would rather take a snooze than take on the dark forces gathering against the tribes of the South.

An environmental fantasy sparkling with fast action and wry humour;
a serious theme tackled with endearing wit and a generous,
sensitive spirit.